

Useful Websites

The internet is a fantastic resource for supporting your child at home. Children love to learn through play and this can be done through a variety of websites and apps.

If you have an iPad or similar tablet, there are many fantastic applications which your child can use to support his/her learning.

Here are a selection of our favourite maths and English ICT resources which you can access at home.

We will also notify you of any new ICT resources which may be useful in our newsletter.
